To the sound of pizzica Madonna, the Italian-American pop icon, celebrated her 59th birthday in a luxurious farmhouse in Savelletri.

The news so far is not new, if it were not for the presence, among the musicians who accompanied her in the dance, of Davide Roberto, a musician from Andria about whom our editorial team has already had the opportunity to write in the past.

Madonna published the video of her performance which took place in the courtyard of the farm on her Instagram profile. In a floral black lace dress, she danced enthusiastically in front of a very few lucky spectators. Davide stands out in the center of the group with a beard, singing and playing. Among the valid musicians is also Carlo Canaglia De Pascalis who has a historical connection with the Federician city, thanks to his collaborations with Maestro Ruggiero Inchingolo. A beautiful experience for Davide and for all the

A performance that lasted about an hour that the international singer wanted to dedicate to her family, present with her in the accommodation facility in Borgo Egnazia, in the Brindisi area. The star, who arrived in Puglia on the evening of August 13th by private jet, landed with her two recently adopted twins from Malawi, Stella and Esther.

The performance of popular music was supported by a stage setup with attention to the smallest details: from the elderly people playing cards to the bales of hay and the barrels of wine, the whole atmosphere made the musical performance even more extraordinary.

Curiosity: the musicians who played for Madonna responded on Facebook to a post by Dominique Antonacci, multifaceted actor, musician and entertainer. Several musicians replied to the message and the best found themselves in a private chat. The details of the artist who were supposed to delight with the performance arrived only a few hours after the performance, in the location where they found themselves rehearsing before giving themselves over to the great pop artist.

Our compliments go to our fellow citizen, who has been living in Rome for years where he carries out important musical projects, for having represented our land so well through the popular traditions that music can transfer.
